T. U.'S STAR QUARTER TUCKER'S SKILL WON'T BE IN BATTLE AT SHAWNEE FRIDAY

Renfro's Ankle to Keep Him From Game-Soucek and Herndon May Alternate at Fullback-Squad Tackles Dummy to Improve Hitting Qualities-Schmidt and Crew Leave for Shawnee Today.

When Coach Francis Schmidt's Tulsa U Tigers bare their claws against Ivan Grove's Oklahoma Raptists at Shawnee. Friday afternoon they will be without the services of their star quarterback, Elza Renfro, Schmidt and crew depart for Shawnee this afternoon, and although Renfro will accompany the squad, he in all probability will not enter the game at any stage, the coach said last night.

If the Orange and Black had any material edge on the husky Bisons—and this appears doubtful in view of the early season performances—this may remove it. Coach Schmidt considers the Baptists one of the strongest teams in the Oklahoma conference this year, and will congratulate this men if they are able to take the measure of Grove's

The whole story leaked out yesterday after Miss Miers' departure. She was employed by the Sinclair Oil & Gas Co., and her girl friends just couldn't keep the secret that their chum was to marry the young man who is considered the brightest football star of his time. Miss Miers, who has been in Tulsa for the last year, is a Fort Worth girl. Her parents reside there. McMillin also is a resident of Fort Worth, but the young couple probably will make their home in Danville, as "Bo" is to coach the Centre grid team after finishing this year as a player.
